Subject: poll

Susan – I have been out of town on work-related travel since November 9th. I checked my PO Box for the legislative intent poll before leaving and only found the info on the letters (not the poll). While gone, I checked my legislative e-mail for any message about the poll and didn't see any. I returned home last night, and picked up my mail today, to find the poll and a due date of 11/24. I have completed the poll and will mail it today. I have not seen a poll count, but if the count is close, I would request that my vote be included in the count. (I vote that the rule is consistent with legislative intent, in the event this message can count as a vote and one is needed before my hard-copy form arrives.)

Also, in the future, it might be helpful to provide for a means for electronic voting for those of us that may be out of town for an extended period when the polling occurs. Thanks.
